The near ubiquitous presence of extortion via threats and acts of all four forms of per se defamation within the community by a shadow network of administrators and members (more thoroughly described in the Bralich v Gayner et al "Statement of Claim") absolutely destroys the credibility of any hearsay and insists on sound, Court quality evidence judged within the confines of U.S. or Canadian jurisprudence before there is ANY reason to impugn the Sakyong's character or to take steps to limit his authority or power, and certainly to ask him to admit to or apologize for unsupported and unsupportable conjecture and mean-spirited hysteria is daft, both in the hysterical environment of the mob and within any sane and civil society.

The very strong likelihood that the Sakyong would not have voted in favor of the licensing agreement between the Sakyong Potrang, Inc. and Shambhala International is attested to by three very telling factors:

1. The corporate restructurings that left him and the lineages he represents no possibility of vote of more power beyond that of the eight(?) others on the board, and the fact that he was not even a board member of either corporation when the vote was taken.
2. His refusal to allow Shambhala Mountain Center to continue using that name forcing the change of nane to Drala Mountain Center.
3. His "defrocking" of all titles, rights, and permissions of teachers and administrators leaving them without the ability to act in his or the lineages' names.

Thus, without a verifiable response from him concerning his approval or disapproval of the licensing agreement and his opinion concerning any claims to genuine connection and support from him and the lineages, the Court and any reasonable person must conclude he disapproves of the action and that there has been a formal break with him and the lineages and any claims to the contrary are fraudulent.

As dues members, donors, and granting authorities have all been paying for and supporting the authenticity of the Buddhist teachings and traditions since 1973 until this licensing agreement of 2022, it must also be necessarily concluded that any and all expenditures by Shambhala International since that vote are fraudulent violations of the contract and the trust of those who have paid for and continue to pay for the expenses of the community.

It is for this reason that this law suit seeks relief in the form of an immediate temporary and a post-judgment permanent injunction against the use of those trademarks and logos and any further expenditures by the community until such time as a verifiable response can be had from
